For the past number of weeks the C.Y.O. Players, made up of members of the Catholic Youth Club and the Knights of Columbus of St. Mary's Parish, Beiseker have been preparing and practising for the public presentation of "The Miser", a three act comedy by the famous French author Moliere, translated and adapted by Walter F. Kerr. The publishers of this particular version of an ancient play recommend it very strongly, first, as sheer entertainment, and second, as educational theatre at its best. The presentation of "The Miser" by the Beiseker group will be for the benefit of the Beiseker Community Enterprises in support of the Memorial Hall. As the hall committee has gone to considerable expense in remodeling the stage recently for the benefit of all, it is hoped that the general public will support this endeavor both because it is for a worthy cause and an evening of fine entertainment is assured.

What Happens to Pool Elevator Earnings?

LAST YEAR Alberta Pool Elevators had net earnings of $1,623,996.62.

The Wheat Pool delegates decided to dispose of such earnings as follows:

Cash dividends on member patrons' deliveries	$ 400,128.00
Redemption of 1923-28 reserves	1,040,385.00
Income tax	83,390.93
Retained to increase working capital	100,092.69
	$1,623,996.62

On February 15, 1952, the Alberta Wheat Pool mailed 20,000 cheques totalling $900,000 to redeem 1923-28 reserves. Further redemptions will bring the total up to $1,040,385. As this payment is a return of capital no income tax is imposed thereon.

When this year's distribution is completed, the Alberta Wheat Pool will have redeemed reserves to the value of $6,900,000, all at 100 cents on the dollar.

The original reserve contributions totalled about $8,400,000, so that only $1,500,000 of reserves will then be outstanding in members' hands.

The Alberta Wheat Pool has no capital stock. Ownership rests with reserves.

As reserves are redeemed from original members (1923-28), they are re-issued to member patrons of Pool elevators in the form of patronage dividends.

When the 1950-51 program is completed, reserves to the value of $6,000,000 will have been so re-distributed. Grain producers can increase their equity in Alberta Pool Elevators simply by delivering their grain to a Pool elevator.

With an understanding of Alberta Pool Elevator operations and policies, more grain producers should become Alberta Pool members, and the patronage of Pool elevators should steadily increase.

It is a simple matter to join the Alberta Wheat Pool. Your Pool elevator agent will explain how it is done.

Learn To Shoot Straight

Not one hockey player in a hundred has learned to shoot straight, according to research recently completed by Sports College. Even on the Detroit Red Wings, Stanley Cup Champions, special tests demonstrated that shooting was one of the lowest developed hockey skills.

This is hard to understand. The basic idea in hockey is to score goals, and the opposing team isn't going to put the puck in the net for you, as Tommy Ivan, coach of the Wings, often tells his team.

Facts and figures compiled by Sports College show that the average player shoots only about 20 per cent. as accurately as he could if he practised properly. The usual haphazard method of shooting at goal without taking aim is not good enough.

To develop real accuracy, there must be a definite target at which to shoot!

A bulls-eye nailed on the side of the rink is one effective practice target. Do plenty of shooting at it from different ranges and from both forehand and backhand sides. Practice shooting from stationary and skating positions.

The ideal target, however, fits in the mouth of the goal, and leaves openings about 12" square in each of the four corners, and another 10" wide by 6" high in the center at ice-level. Such a target can be made from strong wood covered by a layer of rubber matting. Practice sinking the puck in these holes from different ranges and angles, using all the shots in your repertoire, just as with the bulls-eye.

Special bulletins entitled "Target practice and drills to develop shooting accuracy" may be obtained from Sports College. Write for a catalogue of hockey literature.

If you are unable to build a target for the goal, always try to aim at those vulnerable spots in the four corners of the net. A low shot, about six inches off the ice to either corner is the best.

Above all, remember to practice your shooting with a definite pattern in mind. Never shoot carelessly without aiming. Try to visualize game situations, pretending that you are playing a crucial contest, and setting up in your mind various defensive situations you might run up against as you skate in on goal.

Milking Cattle Population In Manitoba Down

WINNIPEG. — Manitoba's population of milking cattle at the start of 1952 numbered 229,000 or 1,900 less than at the beginning of 1951, according to a recent survey conducted by the statistics branch of the Manitoba department of agriculture.

Between June and December, 1951, the drop in the province's milking herd amounted to 8,000 head, the survey showed. Announcement of the results stated that a decline in the June-December period in normal.

The latest survey showed 1,359 milk producers shipping fluid milk to Winnipeg, Portage, Brandon and Neepawa. The number of cows producing milk for the four markets was estimated at 20,500.

Production of cheddar cheese in Manitoba amounted to 1,450,000 pounds in 1951, an increase of slightly more than one per cent. over the 1,435,000 pounds produced in the previous year. It was the first increase in cheese production since 1947.

Production of butterfat in January, 1952, totalled 845,101 pounds, a sharp increase over the 727,628 pounds produced in the same month of 1951.

Poor harvesting conditions and unsold grain contributed to the increased butterfat production, the agriculture department reported. Similar increases were noted for the preceding three months.

THE CHAIR TRAIN

The kitchen floor's the great wide world—

A land so vast and bare;
And I'm the master of a train
Made up of every chair.
The washstand is a tunnel dark;
The cupboard's just a station;
And right up to the basement door
We ride in great elation.
We all ought to see some town
After riding miles 'n' miles,
Then someone calls out, "All Aboard!"
And nearby mother smiles.
She even takes a ride with us
To a city far away.
She tells us we must speed along
So she can return that day.
The kitchen floor's the great wide world
When we play train, you see.
But no matter just how far we go
We chug chug home for tea!

National League Hockey Notes

Goals Scored by Defensemen

Defensemen of the Detroit Red Wings and New York Rangers are the top goal scorers in the National Hockey League among the blueline brigades. Detroit defensemen and Ranger rearguards had each scored 19 goals up to the morning of February 7.

The Red Wings defensemen were led by Red Kelly who accounted for more than half of their 19-goal total while the Rangers were paced by Hy Buller with just about half of the New York total. The redheaded Kelly, All-Star defenseman, scored 11 of Detroit's 19 goals. The other Detroit defensemen to garner goals were Marcel Pronovost with six and Benny Woit with two.

Buller, the outstanding rookie defenseman, scored nine of the Rangers' 19 counters. Steve Kraftcheck, surprisingly, has scored seven of the New York goals tallied by defensemen. Allan Stanley had notched two and burly Jack Evans potted one.

Following the Red Wings and Rangers with goal-getting defensemen are the Chicago Black Hawks with 12 goals by rearguards, Montreal Canadiens with 11, Boston Bruins with eight and Toronto Maple Leafs with three.

Bill Gadsby and Al Dewsbury lead the way among the Hawks' defenders. Gadsby had scored six goals up to the morning of February 7 with Dewsbury tallying four. Jack Stewart and Clare Martin accounted for the remaining two goals. Doug Harvey, Montreal's ace blueline bumper, scored five of the Canadiens' 11 goals. Dollard St. Laurent and Butch Bouchard each flicked on the red light twice while Bud MacPherson and Ross Lowe scored singletons for the Habs.

Hal Laycoe is the foremost goal-getter among the Boston defensemen with five markers. The other three goals were tallied by Gus Kyle, Bill Quackenbush and Ed Kryzanowski. Bill Juzda, Gus Morison and Hugh Bolton were responsible for the three goals garnered by the low-scoring Toronto defense corps.

Four of Top Goal-Getters Do Better on Road

Four of the top goal scorers in the National Hockey League have scored more goals playing away from their home rink than they have at home. Out of the 15 highest goal-getters on the morning of February 7 (players with 15 or more goals), only four fared better in games on opponents' ice. The quartet with more goals on the road are Johnny Peirson of Boston, Max Bentley and Harry Watson of Toronto and Milt Schmidt of Boston. Peirson scored nine of his 16 goals away from the Boston Garden; Bentley scored 10 of his 19 tallies on the road; Watson has exactly the same record as Bentley, 10 out of 19 away from Maple Leaf Gardens; while Schmidt has the same record as Peirson, nine out of 16 on the road.

Following are the 15 leading goal scorers on the morning of February 7 with the number of goals they've scored at home and on the road:

	Goals At Home	Goals On Road

Maurice Richard, (C) ...	25	17

Schmidt-Dumart Night On March 18

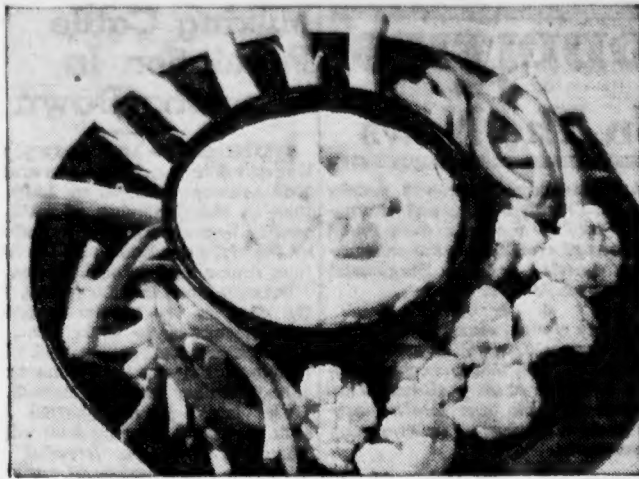

Two of the most popular and deserving players in the National Hockey League will be honored with a "Night" on March 18. Milt Schmidt and Woody Dumart, those grand old campaigners of the Boston Bruins will be honored by Boston fans at the Boston Garden on that evening. Dumart entered the select 200-Goal Club on February 5 and Schmidt has scored 195 goals up to the morning of February 7 and should be a 200-goal scorer by March 18, too. It will be the "Schmidt-Dumart Night" and will jointly honor these two great players.

It's a new fashion... this mode of serving the salad as first course before the meal. We think it must have all begun with a very busy hostess who found she could keep her guests occupied with a salad while she finished last minute preparations in the kitchen!

Serving the salad first is a grand way to stimulate the appetite and at the same time fill the family with a good bit of their vital day's supply of vitamins and minerals.

There are as many variations of an appetizer salad tray as your imagination dictates, and as your green grocer can put in your market basket.

But do serve your vegetables crisp and icy cold as we suggest below and let each "dip" their own salad from a bowl of rich mayonnaise or salad dressing.

The appetizer salad is a stunning new dinner service fashion. Try it and see!

Accidents Greater Child Killer Than 10 Top Infectious Diseases

Some 1,500 Canadian children die each year as a result of accidents—more than the number lost because of the 10 acute infectious diseases of childhood, points out the Health League of Canada in a National Health Week message.

Medical science has been successful in reducing the number of deaths from diseases that only a few years ago took heavy toll; but accidents—which are preventable—continue unabated their murderous assault on the child population.

Back in the 1920's, accidents stood in seventh place among causes of children's deaths in Canada, points out Dr. C. Collins-Williams, in his research work done for the Child and Maternal Health Division of the League. By 1946, the same age group (up to 15 years) saw accidents move up to fourth place on the list of killers. During the first year of life, they stand in eighth place, during the second year third, and during each year after infancy and up to 15, accidents claim more young Canadian lives than any other listed cause.

Up To Parents

"This is a needless waste of lives, through traffic accidents, drowning, fire, poisoning, electric shock, falls, and the misuse of firearms," states the Health League. "Parents and other adults have it largely in their power to save these young lives by exercising care themselves, by good example, and by careful training of our youngsters very early in their lives."

Here are a dozen vital child safety rules for every parent to follow:

(1) Don't leave drugs and medicines within reach of children. Always keep them in a cupboard out of reach.

(2) Don't leave cleaning fluids, insecticides, rat poisons and similar household articles within reach of children.

(3) Don't leave a child alone in a room where there is boiling water or other hot fluid, even though you think he cannot reach it. Turn utensils containing such fluids so that the handles do not project beyond the stove or table.

(4) Don't let the children play with matches or fire. Keep matches in a cupboard out of reach.

(5) Don't leave scissors, knives, open tins, pins, razor blades, and other sharp instruments where children can get hold of them.

(6) Don't make it easy for your child to fall and injure himself. Fasten such things as loose rugs, stair pads and loose edges on linoleum. Have protective screens on windows or fix them so that they cannot be opened too far.

(7) Don't leave the wringer of the washing machine going for even a second while you are not watching it.

(8) Don't have defective electric cords in the home or let the child handle electrical appliances.

(9) Don't let infants play with or wear any ornaments small enough for them to swallow.

(10) Don't leave fire-arms, even though unloaded, where a child can reach them.

(11) Don't let children play unsupervised in the streets until they have learned to keep off the road.

(12) Don't let children play unsupervised near the water. Teach them to swim as soon as possible.

GARDEN NOTES

Planning A Garden
Can Be Lots Of Fun

Gardening Indoors

It's possible to build a garage or even a house without a plan but it is hardly to be recommended. The same applies to a garden, though the planning is much more simple and it is a lot of fun, too. In fact with a pencil, a bit of paper and a seed catalogue one can put in a very pleasant evening while waiting for soil and weather to warm up out of doors.

Vegetable Planning

No elaborate plans are required unless one is going to do things on a big and lavish scale. For the vegetable plot, indeed it is just a matter of simple straight lines and a little knowledge of the size the various kinds will grow and when it is safe to plant them. Where space is very limited one can get a great deal more by interplanting short season things like lettuce, radish, spinach, etc., with say carrots, beets, beans. The latter will take much longer to mature and will require full space after the quick growers have been harvested.

Another space saving trick is to train vines like cucumbers, melons and squash along boundary fences or paths. Also that is a good place to grow tall things such as staked tomatoes and corn.

In the very small urban plot one should concentrate on those vegetables that take up the least room for the number of meals produced. Things like corn, potatoes, peas and squash, for instance require quite a lot of space. On the other hand it is positively amazing the quantities of beans, carrots, beets, lettuce, radish that one can harvest from a patch of ground no more than 10 feet each way.

Flowers and Lawns

For flower gardens and especially the ground about the house, authorities generally advise an informal layout. This means a generous allowance for a central lawn, and round this are arranged clumps of shrubbery, trees and flowers. The beginner is warned to steer clear of stiff rows for flowers, though along walks, fences and house lines the flower garden or shrubbery will have to follow.

Helpful Hints

Furs should be brushed or combed only by experts. If your fur becomes matted, fluff it up by shaking it vigorously.

If it is impossible to get a brush into a small-necked bottle use a few navy beans, small buttons, or tacks, and a small amount of soapy water. Swish these thoroughly about inside, and every particle of stain will be removed.

Try munching on a piece of white bread while peeling onions, and see if it does not eliminate all those tears.

Take galoshes or rubbers off as soon as you get indoors. They cause feet to perspire and can ruin shoe leather.

more or less regularly. But planting in clumps is the best practice, even to the tiny edging flowers along the front of the garden. The same holds true of the medium and larger flowers, both annual and perennial, and the lower shrubs.

Of course with trees, unless we have an exceedingly fine lot, we stick to individual planting. Here, just to prevent any monotony, however, it is an excellent idea to have an odd tree or group of shrubbery right out on the lawn, but to one side rather than in the centre. Flower beds are broken up in the same way, with an occasional clump of larger plants brought deliberately forward just to add interest and screen a bit of the background.

CROSS-PURPOSE

Two People Trying To Stop
Each Other From Doing
The Same Thing.

By MAUDE NORMAN

ROBERT sat looking at his wife. How could she sit there so quietly, head bent above her sewing, knowing she had the means of putting Uncle Ben to sleep—he shrank from the word—somewhere about the house?

She gave an exclamation and looked at her finger, where the needle had pricked it. "I hate blood," she quavered, putting the injured digit to her mouth. "It's so—"

"Most women hate the sight of blood," Robert answered, watching her closely. "That's why they choose a different way of getting rid of someone who stands in their way. Women generally use poison."

The fair head bent lower, she began to rip out stitches.

"Is there anything you would like to tell me, Jeanne?" he asked gently. "Anything to tell you?" she echoed. "Of course not. Have you anything to tell me?"

"What would I have to tell?" he countered.

"That you had seen Mr. Ralston about that job as I asked you."

He moved restlessly. "I intended to, but I knew Uncle Ben would be angry and I didn't want to excite him."

"Uncle Ben!" Jeanne folded her work with shaking hands. "Of course you mustn't offend Uncle Ben. Ever since we've been married, everything has been Uncle Ben. We came here to live because he wanted us. You couldn't get a job because Uncle Ben wanted you near to jump when he spoke. In return for this devotion, Uncle Ben will leave you his money when he dies. That is, if you're a good boy and don't displease him. Well," her voice rose—"I'm sick of catering to his whims and I'm sick—"

"I suppose you're sick of me?" Robert cut in.

"I'm sick of your spineless attitude," she cried. "I was considered a lucky girl when I married you. The heir of rich, old Benjamin Dobbs. Rich and good-looking, what more could any girl ask? And what did I really marry? A weakling! If you haven't enough backbone to end it I have."

"Did you know a bottle of sleeping pills was missing from the doctor's bags?" he asked.

Jeanne's body tensed. "So I heard. How does he know but what they weren't put in his bag?"

"I asked him that, but he said his office girl was always careful, filling his bag. He missed them after he had been up to see Uncle. He asked me if we had seen anyone around his bag. I said no, naturally."

"Naturally," Jeanne repeated. "Why did he have to leave his bag where anyone could get at it? If anything happens, he's to blame, putting temptation in a person's way—" Sobbing, she ran from the room.

Robert wiped his face with a trembling hand. His suspicions were confirmed, and he was to blame. Poor, pretty Jeanne. He must find the pills and destroy them, without letting her know he was aware of her plan.

He searched everywhere. Had Jeanne kept changing the hiding place? He knew he didn't imagine the guilty look on her face. Then he found her in the solarium, digging around the flowers.

"You'll get your hands dirty," he said, quietly.

She swung around with a startled cry. "The earth around the flowers needed loosening," she began lamely, then stopped. "Robert," she found it difficult to continue, "whatever happens, I want you to know I love you and always will. I didn't mean what I said."

A lump caught in Robert's throat. She was doing this for him. "I love you too," he said huskily—"for the sake of our love, give me the pills."

"Give you the pills," she gasped. "Why—"

The phone rang, Robert answered. He turned back. "It was the doctor," he stammered. "The pills weren't in his bag after all. His regular girl was ill, the substitute forgot to put them in. I thought you had taken them, to give to Uncle Ben."

"And I thought you had!" Jeanne collapsed in his arms. "I was trying to find them before you could give them to him. What fools we've been."

"I've been a fool for years," Robert stroked her hair. "But that's ended. We'll get a place of our own, if it's only one room. Uncle Ben can do as he pleases with his money. From now on, I earn my own."

May Form
All-Saskatchewan
Ball League

MOOSE JAW. — Preliminary discussions to plan the possible organization of an all-Saskatchewan baseball league this summer were held in Moose Jaw at a general meeting of Western Canada Baseball league officials.

The proposed loop, if formed, would include teams from Regina, Estevan, Indian Head and Moose Jaw in the south, and Saskatoon and North Battleford in the north.

Because of high operational costs and lack of night baseball facilities, Moose Jaw and Regina officials have decided against joining the Mandak league, it was learned.

If plans under the tentative all-Saskatchewan setup materialize, the six-team loop would likely fall in a semi-professional status with controlled player salaries.

The league wouldn't affiliate with professional interests, this year at least, owing to the lateness in the season for organization.

NAME DERIVED FROM PALACE

The name Scotland Yard for London's police is derived from a palace and courtyard for use of Scottish kings which stood on ground once used for police buildings.

V.O.N. POSTER GIRL—Margaret Hayward, R.N., 25, of the Victoria Order of Nurses, who is stationed in Montreal, has been selected to portray the cheerful, competent nursing spirit of her Order in picture posters being distributed across the country for "V.O.N. Week" — Feb. 24 to March 1. A native of Winnipeg, Miss Hayward served at Deer Lodge Military Hospital, Winnipeg, King Edward Memorial Hospital, Hamilton, Bermuda, and Reddy Memorial Hospital, Montreal, before joining the Greater Montreal Branch of the V.O.N. in 1951.

Funny and Otherwise

He—"I'll try to make you a good husband."

She—"And if you don't succeed, I'll make you a good husband."

"Your brother studied art, didn't he?"

"Yes, he did."

"Is he a finished artist?"

"You bet. The critics finished him yesterday when they wrote up his exhibition."

"Yes, my son went out West several years ago to make a fortune."

"And what is he worth now?"

"I don't exactly know; but six months ago the authorities were offering $5,000 for him."

"I'm Mr. Brown's wife," said a brunette, introducing herself to a blonde at a party.

"I'm his secretary," said the blonde.

"Oh," said the brunette, arching her eyebrows slightly, "were you?"

A cavalry recruit was at his first riding practice.

"I don't like the look of this horse's head," he complained.

"Don't worry, you'll soon get over that," the instructor replied.

"My wife is the most wonderful woman in the world. And that's not just my opinion—it's hers, too!"

The big-game hunter was showing his trophies to a guest. He pointed proudly to the wonderful collection of heads around the wall and the tiger skins on the floor.

"Very interesting," muttered the guest, peering at them through his spectacles. "Perhaps you'll drop in some evening and see my butterflies."

Mrs. Johnson: Well, now that you've met my daughter, which side of the family tree do you think she resembles?

Mrs. Jackson: Well, really now, it's true she's not a very pretty child, but I'd hardly say she looks like the side of a tree.

The ferry cap'n shouted into the crew's quarters: "Is there a mackintosh down there big enough to keep two young ladies warm?" Came a voice from below: "No, but there's a McPherson who's willing to try."

Treating Seed Means Better Crops

Seed treating and cleaning is the first step every farmer in Western Canada should take this Spring to insure increased yields of high quality, smut-free grain in 1952.

Why Seed Treatment? As we pointed out in our last article a very serious smut situation exists in Western Canada. The common cereal smuts can be easily, effectively, and economically controlled by seed treatment. Furthermore, seed treatment gives good control of certain other destructive seed-borne diseases of small grain crops, and protects the seed against soil-borne diseases such as the seed rots and seedling blights.

Recommended Treatments. The officially recommended seed-treating chemicals for 1952 are: Agrox C, Ceresan M, Leytosan, Mergamma C and Panogen. These chemicals are highly effective in controlling most seed-borne diseases of cereals, except loose smut of wheat and barley. The chemicals "Anticarie" and "Bunt-No-More" will control bunt of wheat, but they will not control the smuts of oats and barley. Be sure and treat dry seed of wheat and flax at least 24 hours before seeding. With dry seed of oats and barley, however, best results are obtained when the seed is treated at least one week in advance of seeding. Don't use artificially-dried grain for seed unless you know it germinates satisfactorily.

Treatment of Damp Grain. Under no circumstances should "tough and damp" grain be treated with Formalin or Bluestone. Wheat, oats and barley with a moisture content of more than 16 1/2%, and flax with over 12% moisture, should not be used for seed unless a germination test has shown that it germinates satisfactorily—65% or higher. Moist grain of good germination should be treated with an approved chemical disinfectant, but such seed should not be treated earlier than 24 hours before sowing.

The best seed treatment advice we can give to farmers is this. Be wise, be modern, play safe—plant only cleaned, treated seed in 1952.

Don Huether of Union College visited his parents over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kaiser and Billy Huether of Calgary were visiting in the district over the weekend.

John Leiske took in the Agricultural Short Course and Seed Fair This was a three-day program and no one should have missed it.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Huether and Mr. and Mrs. James Suelzle left Friday for Kavanagh to visit their son, Alvin Huether and other places for a few days.

We were glad to see Mrs. Clarence Suelzle and her daughter of Delacour visiting with the S.D.A. church and friends. They have recovered from their recent accident on the way to Lacombe last month, although the scars are still to be seen.

ATTENTION FARMERS

Why take chances with poisonous dusts when treating your grain? Treat with Panogen, the modern liquid seed disinfectant. Approved by the Dept. of Agriculture and Dominion Lab after three years of testing in Canada and U.S.A.

Panogen is distributed by United Engine and Threshers and has never been distributed by any other firm in Alberta.

Panogen is recommended for the control of the following diseases:

WHEAT—Stinking smut, seed decay and seed borne seedling blight.

OATS—Seed decay, scab seedling blight, damping-off, loose and covered smuts and seed borne Helminthosporium blight.

BARLEY—Covered or black loose smut, stripe disease and seed borne scab seedling blight.

RYE & FLAX, ETC.

Make arrangements to have your grain cleaned and treated now at the Alberta Pacific Grain at Acme. We will be glad to supply any further information.

JOHN GOULDIE, AGENT.

We're all hoping, Mrs. Huether, that you'll be up and around soon.

Movie pictures shown in the S.D.A. Hall March 8 were sponsored by Imperial Oil dealer, Frank Schmaltz, and were much enjoyed. A film on "India and Its Strange Gods" and one on Safety from the National Safety Council were exceptionally good.

Mrs. Sam Huether, who has been in the General hospital for about a month, is home now but still in bed. We are sorry that she has so much trouble getting her back right again. She has been in a cast for a short time but this did not work. She is being fitted for a brace.
